

Kiva Schuler

CEO | SPEAKER | ADVOCATE | AUTHOR

Watch Kiva's Interview with Jack Canfield:

Kiva Schuler, CEO & Founder
The Jai Institute for Parenting

Kiva Schuler is the Founder and CEO of The Jai Institute for Parenting, an organization that has trained over 2,000 parenting coaches globally. She is also the author of the ground-breaking book The Peaceful Parenting (R)evolution: Changing the World by Changing How We Parent, which examines the "consequences" of traditional parenting methods and offers a more modern approach grounded in emotional intelligence, values-led leadership, and effective communication.

Kiva's passion for parenting stemmed from her own childhood experiences of neglect and trauma. Like many of her generation, she had a front-row seat to the kind of parenting that she did not want for her own children. The Jai Institute is the fulfillment of a promise that she made to herself when she was 16 years old that when she had children of her own, she would learn to parent them with compassion, consistency and communication.

Kiva's passion, enthusiasm, and effervescence instantly create openness, connection, and inspiration with her audiences. On a mission to change the culture around parenting, Kiva wants children to grow up to reach their full potential and live their lives free of trauma, shame, and emotional wounds. As a single mother, she has built an extraordinary business that has touched tens of thousands of lives and empowered others who share her mission to do this work. Kiva holds a B.S. in Psychology from Washington University in St. Louis and is a Certified Professional Life Coach.

Potential Content Topics include:

- Why it's time to stop yelling
- How parents can best support their children through challenging times
- How to speak so our children will listen (and learn!)
- How to teach children values, decision-making and integrity
- How to raise empowered kids
- Reimagining Discipline: Stepping into our role as our children's mentors + guides

The Peaceful Parenting (R)evolution

Changing the World by Changing How We Parent

How can parents best meet the complex needs of their children in these complicated times?

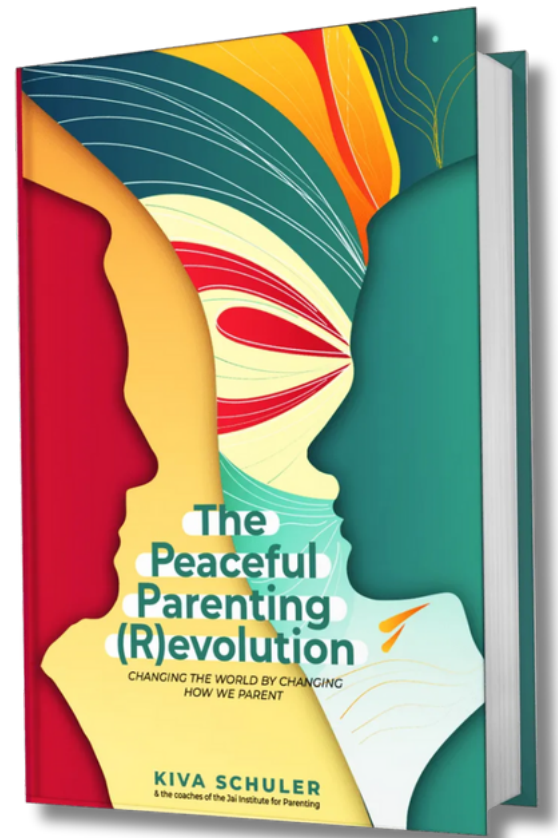

Inside, you'll find a radically different approach to parenting, where we stop asking so many questions about how to get children to behave and examine our behaviors, expectations, and values as parents.

Embracing the idea that our children deserve our honesty, vulnerability, and leadership, you'll discover a powerful framework for raising your family with integrity and confidence. Giving and receiving the trust, communication, cooperation, respect, and joy that every parent and child deserves ultimately allows our children to become the leaders our future so desperately needs.

A groundbreaking examination of parenting, written by the founder of the world's leading parent coaching institute, this book will take you on an inner journey of self-inquiry, exploration, and curiosity, helping you answer the question that is only answerable by YOU.

"How can I be the best version of myself in the name of raising my child?"

You'll be moved by stories of hope and inspired by powerful shifts in families from all over the world.

Suggested retail price: $16.95
Kindle: $2.99

Jai Institute for Parenting

The Jai Institute is a world-class professional education organization dedicated to honoring children's human rights to be valued, loved, and respected by the people they love most—their parents. Pediatricians, therapists, educators, and over 2,000 coaches have been trained in the Jai methodology.

"Let's be the generation that breaks the cycles of harm that have perpetuated so many bad things for far too long.

This IS a revolution. And an evolution. We know better. So we can do better."

- Kiva Schuler